We are excited to see you perform your duties to the perfection the Saturn Planetary Economic Development Company expects!

As a note: please keep this manual handy at all times for reference and cataloging your experiences upon the ship. Upon the end of your journey, you will turn this file into Human Resources and Employee Assessment for analysis.

Self - Assessment

During training, we will help you practice and perfect your required tasks. First, let us start with a general self-assessment and identity recognition exercise. We refer to this paperwork internally as a “Character Ident” and goes into your permanent file.

Answer the following questions.

My name is:

I possess the core talents of:

The company employs various artificial life forms. Please answer the following questions (please note that current science tells us that the answer cannot be yes to both):

discussion and negotiation is healthy for all involved.

Human Resources

Throughout your time on your ship, you might encounter strange or alien technology, items that defy logic, or accomplish unusual effects.

Please catalog them below, along with their effects.

Below is a list of inappropriate words that we expect

plurkinhead	kwivin'	xlk (either the "sha" or "za" pronunciation are inappropriate)
blurhshole	hibbirarse	mullhead
zmeggin	jummer	bimdiot

you not to use while performing your duties.

Demerits

When you expose yourself to harm, cause a significant problem for the ship, or fail too many T.E.S.T.s, you gain a demerit.

If you ever have more than five demerits, you must take a brief respite from your duties until otherwise noted. Your Shift Officer will inform you when you can return to duty.

Thank you!
